

PRICE OF GOOD TOBACCO STILL CLIMBS IN STATE

Some Markets Observed Armistice Day, but Sales Fair for Week.

General Average for Period Was Little Over $15 a Hundred, Despite Much of the Offering Was of Common Grade.

Some of the leaf tobacco market towns of Virginia and North Carolina observed Armistice Day by shutting up shop and passing by the auction sales of the leaf, but this did not interfere with the activity of the other days, and about as much tobacco was sold as in others of recent weeks.

On all grades above common the prices are still climbing, but the low figures being paid for common and nondescript grades keep the general average from showing any decided increase.

The deliveries of sun-cured leaf on the Richmond market were small, but there were only three sales days. However, activity was shown, all buyers being out and bidding was spirited. The general average for the entire week's sales was a fraction over $15 per 100, and this in spite of the fact that a large proportion of the weed offered was common stock. The high figure for the week was $15. The warehouses look for much larger receipts this week.

Good Prices for Dark at Lynchburg. LYNCHBURG, VA., Nov. 12.—The offerings of loose leaf tobacco on this market this week weighed out 553,600 pounds, making the total sales for the season, so far, 1,141,600 pounds. Increase over the same period of last year 597,400 pounds.

Sales were hardly as large as was expected, but having no sales on Armistice Day, cut receipts to some extent.

The offerings consisted of a large percentage of good grades of tobacco, and prices were highly satisfactory.

The demand for the better grades was as strong as ever known, and everything desirable found a ready sale.

Wrappers brought as high as $75, and the general average for the week, taking in all types, good, bad and indifferent, was around $20.

The very inferior grades held down the average, but rich, dark grades, whether short or long, are selling so well that prices are more than equalized.

Good receipts are expected next week.

2,500,000 Pounds of Tobacco Sold. DANVILLE, VA., Nov. 12.—Nearly two and a half million pounds of tobacco was sold here this week, the sales being by far the largest of the season. Sales blocked from Tuesday onwards owing to the large quantities of leaf brought here. Total sales amounted to 2,400,375 pounds for $37,682.34, the average price being 15.28 per 100 pounds.

The average this week shows a material falling off from that of last week—$2.93 per 100 pounds. This, according to the weekly statement made by the Danville Tobacco Association, is due to the fact that nearly all of the tobacco brought here this week was the most inferior seen here this season. The medium to good grades sold at even higher prices than last week, especially wrappers, but such increases are just slight, and by the heavy weight of poor tobacco bringing low prices. It is generally thought that the farmers have been offering their best tobacco and that the receipts from now on will not be so good in quality.

Large Sales at Winston-Salem. WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., Nov. 12.—The deliveries of leaf tobacco on this market this week for about 2,500,000, notwithstanding the very

RIKE MADE MANAGER OF CORLEY'S SALES
Well-Known Salesman Has Had Wide Experience—Predicts Splendid Holiday Business.

E. G. Rike, for many years manager of the Stief store, has been appointed manager of the retail sales of the Corley Company. He knows the Richmond field thoroughly and is expected to do a large volume of business in the holiday season.

Before coming to Richmond, Mr. Rike was connected with two large Southern musical houses. The appreciation of music on the part of the Richmond people has increased wonderfully in the past few years, and with it the demand for musical instruments has increased, until today Richmond ranks high among Southern cities in the volume of sales.

Wilson Has Bumper Week. WILSON, N. C., Nov. 12.—Sales of loose leaf tobacco this week, 3,444,436 pounds for $1,020,792.32, average $29.63. Total sales to date, 24,620,254 pounds for $714,632.45, average $29.02.

This has been the banner week of the season so far as the number of pounds sold is concerned, and Thursday, when 782,834 pounds were sold was the biggest day.

GRAND OPERA OPENS SEASON IN PARIS

Royal Personages in Ex-King Manuel's Box Attract Attention of Audience.

[Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.] PARIS, Nov. 12.—Grand opera of Paris opened its official season last night with a revival of Saint-Saens' "Ascanio." The performance, conducted by Reynaldo Hahn, as chosen by Saint-Saens himself to lead, was acclaimed by critics as a masterpiece.

The singing of Journein in the part of Leventino, was especially commended. The opera is brilliant in the new regime, with ladies in grande toilette, and gentlemen in evening dress.

Royal personages in the box of ex-King Manuel attracted the notice of the audience, which faced about during the intermission, recognizing Queen Victoria, Queen Amelia and other members of royalty.

In keeping with the operas with names of two syllables, Maurice Coquerel appeared last night in a new success, "Phileas," which died of age after a four years' continuous run at the Bouffes Parisiennes.

Other two-syllable operas are "Zaza," "Lebe," and "Kiki." Spicely is featured in the latter.

VIRGINIA LEADS SOUTH IN MILK PRODUCTION
Census Report for 1919 Shows Total Production of 110,942,113 Gallons.
BLACKSBURG, VA., Nov. 12.—The Extension Division of Virginia Polytechnic Institute issued the following: To those interested in the development of Virginia as a dairy State the figures recently published by the Bureau of Census should be very gratifying.

These figures show that in 1919 Virginia produced 110,942,113 gallons of milk. It is also noted that during the same year Virginia dairymen sold 8,907,299 pounds of butter, 256,583 gallons of cream, and 1,163,064 pounds of butterfat.

In these census figures the production for Virginia is compared with that of Delaware, Maryland, West Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Florida. It is very gratifying indeed to note that Virginia has a greater production of milk than any of the other States mentioned. Georgia comes next, with a production of 101,615,773 gallons, while North Carolina stands third, with 95,747,638 gallons.

A further study of the census figures shows that, while the number of dairy cows in Virginia only increased four-tenths of 1 per cent from 1919 to 1920, the total milk production increased 5.50 per cent during the same period. This shows conclusively that Virginia dairymen are keeping better cows and giving these cows better attention.

The Cow Testing Association and Advanced Registry work conducted by the State Agricultural College are undoubtedly having considerable effect on production in this State.

FINE HORSES BEING RAISED IN CLARKE CO.

Thoroughbred Race Horses and Hunters Attract Prominent Turfmen from Many States.

WINCHESTER, VA., Nov. 12.—Clarke County, famed for its blue grass and limestone, is becoming a breeding ground of national importance for thoroughbred race horses and hunters, according to prominent turfmen from many sections of the country who have been visiting the farms of that county in the last few weeks. Since Captain Phil Walker, of Pagebrook Stock Farm, saw the possibilities of Clarke County's blue grass and limestone water, B. B. Jones, oil millionaire of Oklahoma, has bought "Audley," the old Nellie Parke Custis homestead, and is developing it into a model breeding establishment. Kenneth N. Gilpin, of "Kentmore," is rearing a number of colts destined to become race horses and hunters. W. B. Watkins, of "Annfield," has a number of colts to be sold at the next big offering at Saratoga. E. B. Jacobs, who breeds and breaks polo ponies, is unable to meet the demands for the stock he trains. B. O. Randolph, Bowles Brothers and others are developing hunters and selling them for fancy prices. Captain Walker received half a dozen or more colts from England a few days ago, which are to be trained for the turf.
